PRESIDENT'S CORNER

By Bruce A. Tollefson

At the End of the Day — It is People That Make it Work!

This is the last of a series of articles focused on the 'value' MWCIA seeks to deliver to our members and others. As I have emphasized throughout this series, looking at how MWCIA as an organization seeks to create and deliver this value when communicating this message to our members and others is an important exercise.

Our organization, like many companies today, continuously assesses whether it is, in fact, delivering true value to its customers. While the idea for these articles arose from the economic upheavals and uncertainties of the time, the underlying question is and should be asked frequently and independent of any particular economic event.

In my first article, I addressed the operating principals of productivity: teamwork and communications designed to make any organization more efficient. In my second article, I provided an historical perspective on the services MWCIA has and continues to offer in the compilation and analysis of data that is essential to the functioning of today's workers' compensation system.

Next, I addressed the value MWCIA brings to its members and customers through its various national collaborative efforts that are designed to enhance best practices, data standards, consistency, cost effectiveness, and other efforts.

Now I would like to address a key and essential element that allows MWCIA to meet its value-orientated goals: our employees — the people who make it all happen.

MWCIA takes great pride in our staff. We, like other highly successful organizations, have cultivated a very knowledgeable, experienced, cross-functioning, and highly effective team.

What we do in the collection and analysis of vast amounts of data, the publication of ratemaking reports, forms and other useful data and information, and in combination with our collaborative efforts throughout the country is a highly specialized series of activities. The skills and knowledge required to execute these multiple functions are possessed by a very few.

In order to expand and enhance a pool of employees who can meet these challenges, MWCIA has worked hard to develop our staff through education, cross-training, and experience. At the same time, in order to ensure that we have the maximum number of people available to address questions and issues as quickly as possible, we have also worked hard to 'empower' our staff to exercise both responsibility and ownership over their specific areas and to work closely with staff of other related areas of our organization.

In management parlance, MWCIA has accomplished this by creating a 'flattened' organization and by adding cross-training, education, and other efforts that strengthen and enhance our organization's capabilities without adding more staff.

Collectively, all of these changes have transformed our employees into a very proactive, strong, knowledgeable and responsible staff.

As president of MWCIA, I am honored and proud to lead an organization with employees of this caliber and dedication to our collective success. In the end, management and staff both recognize that delivering value is not just the goal of our organization, but a goal that is only attainable through the hard work of a team of highly skilled, professional employees. Because of the hard work and dedication of MWCIA's talented team of employees, that goal will continue to be achieved.

From the Actuary . . .

The 2010 Minnesota Ratemaking Report was released via MWCIA's website on August 13, 2009. The updated Pure Premium Base Rates (PPBR), effective January 1st, 2010, reflect an overall average decrease of 2.4% over those effective during 2009. This is the twelfth decrease in the last fifteen years --- a period which has seen average pure premium levels drop over 45%. Pure premium levels have enjoyed a relatively stable ride since the year 2000, with an average annual change of -0.7%.

The reduction in pure premium levels is comprised of a 2.7% decrease due to experience indications, and a 0.3% increase due to the automatic change in the minimum weekly permanent total benefit threshold to $570.70.

Even with rising medical severities, (9-10% per year), average pure premium levels will tend to stay fairly constant as long as there are no major benefit changes, and case frequency is predictable. This has been the case in Minnesota during the last decade. Indemnity case counts continue to decrease at an expected rate of about 4.5-5% annually, and there hasn't been a significant benefit amendment since October 2000. ☞

2010 MN PER CLAIM LIMIT
$172,000
2010 MN MULTIPLE CLAIM LIMIT

2010 MCPAP Factors Released

Minnesota's 2010 Contractors' Premium Adjustment Program credit factors have been calculated and released to eligible contracting employers who applied for the program. A copy has also been made available to each employer's current carrier of record. In addition, experience modification worksheets impacted by MCPAP will show the employer's MCPAP credit factor in their formula.

2,276 Minnesota employers applied for a MCPAP credit factor for 2010. Approximately 65% of all MCPAP applications are now submitted using MWCIA's easy-to-use online application system.

Here is a breakdown of the MCPAP factors for 2010 (as of November 9, 2009):

Factor Breakdown	Number of Employers
.75 - .79	147
.80 - .89	843
.90 - .99	1,005
1.00	53
TOTAL	2,048*

*206 employers were ineligible & 22 employers had no record of current coverage in Minnesota.

*140 employers received .02 late penalty assessments for applying after the April 1st cut-off.

Time to Apply Again!

Time sure flies! In January, the MCPAP enrollment period for the 2011 program year will begin. MWCIA staff would like to request that all agents assist us by encouraging their contracting clients to submit their MCPAP applications online. The online process is quick and easy and provides each client with the peace of mind that their application was completed correctly and received on time. ☞

MWCIA Educational Series: Election of Coverage Review

Introducing a new Educational Series intended to provide MWCIA staff an opportunity to clarify and/or review common topics involving Workers' Compensation policy writing. These articles are intended to provide agents and carriers with quick guide references rather than an in-depth discussion of a topic's nuances. In response to requests for a quick guide for determining elections of coverage, our first topic provides the following assistance in how to determine Elections of Coverage in Minnesota:

Minnesota Statute §176.141 provides a list of individuals automatically excluded from the Workers' Compensation Law in Minnesota. Conversely, individuals who are not automatically excluded must be covered for workers' compensation under Minnesota Law.

The following chart is a synopsis of the above statute to be used only as a quick reference guide. Specific questions regarding election of coverage of an employee/owner/family member should be directed to the Minnesota Department of Labor & Industry.

ELECTIONS OF COVERAGE
COVERAGE FOR OWNERS &amp; FAMILY MEMBERS*
EMPLOYEE STATUS	AUTOMATICALLY EXCLUDED FROM COVERAGE		AUTOMATICALLY INCLUDED FOR COVERAGE
	OWNER	FAMILY MEMBERS	OWNER	FAMILY MEMBERS
Sole Proprietor	Yes	Yes	No [election required]	No [election required]
Partner	Yes	Yes	No [election required]	No [election required]
Officer of Closely-Held Corp's	≥ 25% ownership &lt;22,880 Payroll Hours for Corp.	Yes [if related to owner who is automatically excluded]	&lt; 25% ownership OR &gt;22,880 Payroll Hours	Yes [if related to owner who is automatically covered]
Member/Manager of LLC's	≥ 25% ownership &lt;22,880 Payroll Hours for LLC	Yes [if related to owner who is automatically excluded]	&lt; 25% ownership OR &gt;22,880 Payroll Hours	Yes [if related to owner who is automatically covered]

* Family Members = Parent, Spouse, Children [regardless of age] of owner/s

** Includes hours of owners & family members who worked at Corporation/LLC in last calendar year

PLEASE NOTE: Owners and family members who are automatically excluded by law can always elect coverage. If coverage is mandatory, however, they cannot waive their rights and must be covered. The decision to cover automatically excluded family members is the responsibility of the related owner. Such decisions can be made independent of the owner's decision regarding their own coverage. An owner who is automatically excluded has the authority to elect coverage for each eligible family member independently [ie. they can elect coverage for themselves, all eligible family members, only certain eligible family members, none of the eligible family members who work for the company or any combination of the above].

Certain corporations with multiple owners and LLC's with owners and/or family members who are automatically excluded may also have owners and/or family members who must be automatically included depending on each officer/member's amount of ownership.
